The Continental Congress commissioned George Washington as Commander in Chief of the Continental Army on June 19, 1775.
Washington left for Massachusetts within days of receiving his commission and assumed command of the Continental Army in Cambridge on July 3, 1775.

Remember . . .

Bring your family, friends and neighbors to remember and celebrate the beginning of America's Revolution and the individual who history would proclaim as America's most indispensable man—George Washington.

Our program will feature Gary VanDolzer, an accomplished actor who has immersed himself in the life and times of Washington. Gary portrays the General wearing a replica of the uniform on display in the Smithsonian. Gary is the same height and weight as Washington and shares his birthday of February 22nd.

Speaking words of Washington, his performance is timeless!

Enjoy a delicious supper catered by Majestic Grill. This uplifting patriotic program will inspire you to honor and remember those who bought our liberty and freedom with their blood, sacrifice and toil.

Celebrate America's Heritage!
